SHOP

CaritoCaro

What: Colorful new Latin American fashion boutique filled with limited-edition items (no more than five of each style), including swimwear, handbags, jewelry, sandals, and leather accents, from the Wayuu and Embera communities of Colombia.

Why: Five percent of proceeds supports the wares' native land.

When: Mon.-Sat., 11 a.m.-7 p.m.; Sun., noon-6 p.m.

Where: 3699 McKinney Ave., ste. 102, West Village (214-295-6930).

CREATE

Make Shop & Studio Fabric and Craft Sale

What: Save $15 on all August and September classes (limit four), including glass etching, tufting and piping, and aprons 101.

Why: Bins of surplus fabric yardage and scraps for $1-$4.

When: Thurs., 6-9 p.m.

Where: 313 N. Bishop Ave., Oak Cliff (214-256-3061).

BUY

Hope Bracelet

What: One hundred percent of profits from the striking black onyx and sterling silver baubles ($125) benefits The Wilson Foundation, which supports education and health care initiatives for disadvantaged South African children.

Why: The first 50 readers to order one receive ten free note cards with photos by an African youth via a program that helps HIV/AIDS efforts.

When: Hope floats.

Where: Online at thewilsonfoundation.org.

BURN

Bridal Body Club

What: A new four-disc workout with a dozen butt-bustin' sweat sessions by the peeps behind the site that dishes everything from recipes to arm-toning tips for brides-to-be.

Why: The biz also holds outdoor boot camps, so you can slim down fast to fit into your Melissa Sweet.

When: Before you walk down the aisle.

Where: Online at bridalbodyclub.com.
